Altman protests PR man hiring for 208

BELLE GLADE—Federal pressure being put on the Palm Beach County Area Planning Board (APB) to hire a public relations man was criticized by Mayor Tom Altman this week in a letter to APB Executive Director Frank Brutt.

Altman, vice-chairman of the APB, said a reported letter from the Atlanta office of the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to the local agency strongly suggesting the agencies with the best public image will be first in line for federal monies to implement 208 plans.

The letter, from Atlanta EPA Project Officer William Patton to APB 208 (non-source pollution) Director Richard Stalker, said, "...there is no doubt that the more visible agencies, i.e., those who can point to specific accomplishments, will be first in line for continuing planning monies."

"This kind of thing is bad for several reasons," Altman said. "I don't believe you can do justice to any issue that way. It's starting at the end and going forward."

"You're not going to get the public's interest by saying there's nothing wrong," Altman said. "You've got to say how terrible the water is in Palm Beach County. We're doing a study to see if anything is wrong but we don't know now if there is a problem."

Altman said he doesn't believe the board is aware of the demands being made by the federal funding agency. "I know I'm vice chairman and I was unaware of it."

Altman said he became aware of the problem through reading a newspaper article last week and one of the reasons he was disturbed by it was a quote Stalker made that the APB is about to hire a $13,500 public relations person whose job description has been termed a planner.

"To me a planner doesn't handle PR work," Altman said. "If we have a planner in the budget, we ought to hire a planner."

Stalker said in a telephone interview Tuesday he believes there is now a need for a PR person. He said the 208 study is now in an analysis phase by staff technicians and consultants and a report must be made for approval of proposals by October.

"Up until recently," he said, "I don't think we did (need a public relations person) but with things starting to move, now is the time we're beginning to need one."

In commenting on Patton's letter, and other EPA letters said to even more bluntly say the federal officials wanted favorable news clippings to impress their supervisors, however, Stalker was quoted as saying:

"Here you do all this work and develop a fine plan and then you're told that it's not just the merits of the plan but public interest that will determine whether you get the money to implement. That bothers me. But at the same time, I guess you can look at this as an icepick in our side, a prod to get us to accomplish something with this money."

"I realize this is a need," he said Tuesday. "We want public reaction in the beginning and to get continuing involvement in the program."

Altman said he intended to request that the matter be put on the APB agenda for discussion Wednesday when the board was to have met in regular session.

Three injured in SR715 automobile-truck wreck

BELLE GLADE—Mr. Norman Pruitt Cook, 19, of Ritta Camp, Clewiston, Charles Wright, 28 and Lionel Jenkins, 19, of Beardsley Farms, Clewiston, were injured Friday in a tractor-trailer-auto crash on SR 715 and N.W. Ave. L. Belle Glade policeman, John B. Runkles said Cook, the driver of a 1970 Mustang, was traveling south on SR 715 when he lost control of the car and struck the 1976 tractor-trailer driven by Johnny Mack Brown, 36, of Winter Haven.

Patrolman Runkles said apparently Cook was accelerating at a speed not conducive to the weather. Cook minutes earlier before the accident had swerved across the road before steering the Mustang back into the right line. A passenger in Cook's car was transmitted to Glades General Hospital by Terry Moss Ambulance Service, but was released later that evening.

The officer said damage to Cook's car was listed at $1,000 and the rig belonging to D.W. Harrell of Winter Gardens at $2,000. Cook was charged with driving while intoxicated.

South Bay is moving

SOUTH BAY—The city administration began moving into the new city hall here Monday and City Clerk Virginia Walker said she expects the move to be completed by Friday.

Mrs. Walker said the move will take place by departments. As of Tuesday, she said the Fire Department was already moved into its new quarters and the city hall employees were expected to begin their move Wednesday. She said the Police Department would be the last department to begin its move.

"Hopefully," she said, "it'll be business as usual by Monday morning." Mrs. Walker said that during the move the telephone will be manned in both the old and new city halls. The number, 996-6751, will remain the same in the new quarters.

The new building, constructed by Wayne Blackwell Construction Company of Miami and paid for with a $471,000 EDA grant, is located on the site of the former city park. With the completion of the building, landscaping of the area is already well underway.

Mrs. Walker said it had been expected the move would have gone faster, but rains earlier this week hampered the moving effect.

Belle Glade Rotarians celebrate 42nd year

BELLE GLADE—Local Rotarians celebrated their 42nd year as an organization Tuesday with the club's historians, John Dulany and Ralph Kidder, recalling events over the years.

Dulany, a pioneer in this area, told the men at their luncheon meeting the history of the Belle Glade Rotary Club is very closely associated with the history of the Everglades and cannot be separated.

So his talk concerned itself partly with the history of the area as well as the history of Rotary Clubs in Belle Glade, Pahokee, Okeechobee and Clewiston.

When Dulany first moved to the region, Canal Point was the largest town around, but when the Connors Highway was completed in 1924, the town died and Pahokee became the premier city. Canal Point at one time was situated on the quickest transportation artery, the North New River Canal, but opening of paved highway leading from Pahokee to West Palm Beach changed that.

Pahokee's Rotary Club was the first founded on Lake Okeechobee, beginning in 1929. Dulany was living there and was president of the Pahokee club when his group sponsored a club in Okeechobee in 1943.

But before that, Pahokee also sponsored a club in Belle Glade, which began, in 1936 and in its turn, Belle Glade sponsored a club for Clewiston.

The men of the local Rotary clubs were leaders in business and agriculture, said Dulany, and cited several examples.

E.G. Kilpatrick was president of the Bank of Pahokee for a number of years before deciding to become a farmer. He resigned and farmed for three years, then was offered a opportunity to become president of a newly-opened bank in Pahokee.

Kilpatrick was a dedicated Rotarian and when he moved to Okeechobee, asked Pahokee for help and started a club there.

Dulany noted he is a "nut for attendance" and his almost perfect attendance record throughout his Rotary career points this out. "If you don't attend the meetings," he said, "you don't amount to much for the club and the club will never do much for you."

He said he was proud of the fact the Okeechobee club, under Kilpatrick's direction, led the district for a number of years in attendance.

Several other Rotarians who were leaders in the area included Dr. William Buck, Dr. Bob Allison, and Ralph Kidder.

Dr. Buck was one of the most community spirited men ever to call Belle Glade home and was a greatly loved figure in the town. Dr. Allison was the head of "one of the most profitable" government ventures ever initiated, said Dulany, the founding of the present experiment station.

He said when settlers first moved into the area, they discovered something was wrong with the rich black muck. It didn't produce crops as it should and Dr. Allison and the experiment station staff found the missing element to be copper.

With this corrected, the area began to produce greater quantities of products than it ever had before. Dr. Allison was also instrumental in attempting to have

THE HEART BALL this year will include a new twist, according to Co-chairmen Sue Bailey and Sherry Barnes. The $25-per-couple tickets also include a cocktail hour and hors d'oeuvres which begin at 8 p.m. Friday at the Belle Glade Elks Lodge. The ball itself, considered by many to be the social highlight of the year in the Glades, begins at 9 p.m. to the music of Ray Garcia's Orchestra. Mrs. Bee Wood, a local member of the Palm Beach Chapter of the American Heart Association, said a number of Heart Association officials from the county and state associations would be present. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Deborah Altman at 996-9463 or Mrs. Douglas Wedgworth at 996-9518.

Friday will be a big night around here.

The Heart Ball is Friday at the Elks Club in Belle Glade. As usual, you can count on it being a super evening and the donations are to a very worthy cause.

But it's also the night Mel Tillis will be singing at the Swamp Cabbage Festival in LaBelle and about half the area's Tillis fans will no doubt ride over to hear Pahoek's most favorite son do his thing.

Wherever you wind up, the wet end promises to be a good one.

I really enjoyed a talk Tuesday by John Dulany at the Belle Glade Rotary Club.

And his reciting of Kipling's poem "If" was one of the best I've ever heard.

John Ralph Kidder, and George Farnall, a charter member of the Belle Glade Rotary Club, presented a delightful historical program and during the program, and especially during the poem, it became clear to me that we have lost something in our present-day system of education.

When these men attended school and college, literature was very important. While it still is, I don't think students today realize the same value from the classics these men received.

How many of today's students do you know that can recite a poem of such power as "If" without even glancing at a copy of it?

Kipling's work is not considered classical in the same light of other, older material. But he made a lot of people think.

And isn't that what literature is all about?

We're working hard on the historical issue we were planning in celebration of the 50th anniversary of Belle Glade and in doing so, we're also working on another special issue on the anniversary of the 50th year since the 1929 hurricane.

And sometimes things just work out right.

Mrs. W.L. Hunt came in to buy a few back issues of the paper the other day and we got to talking. The result is a delightful interview that will appear in both special issues, broken into two parts.

She noted she was living on the Hillsboro Canal on a houseboat when the hurricane struck and spent all day Sunday hanging out on a dredge boat.

And like many of the pioneers, she didn't leave after the hurricane. She and her husband stayed and helped to rebuild the area. It's a kind of dedication that still shows today. Even though she is now living in Tampa, she often returns to her Lake Harbor home-stead.

"To renew the muck in my shoes," she said.

Like many of us who have chosen to live in the Glades, it's muck that can't be easily washed off.

The Glades Correctional Institute Jaycee Awards Banquet Saturday night was interesting.

Along with the steak and awards, superintendent R.V. Turner gave a talk that every Jaycee listened to carefully.

Among her things, he said inmates work to prove themselves to be working toward their own rehabilitation should receive recognition of this and time off because of it and he's working toward it.

The inmates I talked to described Turner as a "straight shooter" who is fair but stern.

Sounds like the kind of man that is needed. If a crime has been committed, whoever committed it needs to be punished. If he can be helped to become a contributing member of society once released, then the effort should be made.

And the state should be fair and just. Like Turner said, inmates need to know definite criteria of what they can do and how they can behave to receive time off.

Certain crimes should not, in my opinion, be given this opportunity. But others should.

The Jaycees at GCI provide a means through which inmates and officials can work without the problems that have resulted in institutions.

THANK YOU, MR. PRESIDENT....AND NOW TO REPRESENT THE OPPOSING VIEW, HERE'S A REPLAY OF ONE OF MR. CARTER'S CAMPAIGN SPEECHES.

No mouthpiece needed...yet

Bureaucracies, like old soldiers, never die. Unfortunately, they don't just fade away either, they just keep on growing...and some of their empire building stunts would be ludicrous if they weren't spending our money in the attempts.

Take, for example, our United States Environmental Protection Agency...please! The EPA's latest demands on the Area Planning Board (APB) is to hire a $13,500 a year public relations man to tout the 208 plan if the APB wants its share of federal money.

It doesn't matter that the plan is so far non-existent. It doesn't matter that a mouthpiece would have little to talk to the public about. The EPA has the cart firmly before the horse and that's where it's going to stay if they have anything to say about it.

The 208 plan, or study as it should more rightly be called at this time, was authorized several years ago with the avowed goal of controlling non-point water pollution. Non-point describes the runoff from places like parking lots, sugarcane fields and similar drainage areas rather than point pollution, such as a sewer outfall.

The problem, as pointed out this week by Belle Glade Mayor Tom Altman, who is also vice chairman of the APB, is that studies are still underway and nobody even knows if there is a real pollution problem.

And what arouses public interest? What can a public relations man use for the proverbial two by four to get the public's attention?

Why, it's nothing but the clarion call that that people are destroying the public's drinking water. That industry is filling the streams with filth. That agriculture is letting pesticide and nutrient loaded water run off vegetable and cane fields into the canals dug throughout the Everglades Agricultural Area for the purpose of controlling floods and water to be used for agriculture.

And when there is a dearth of information, some public relations types wouldn't balk a second at creating information. It's happened before, especially when a person's job is at stake.

This is one time the EPA should be resisted by local officials. If there is no news, why hire someone to create the news...even if funds are at stake.

Get the facts first. Then, if he's needed, hire the mouthpiece.

It's our rules or we don't play

The United Farm Workers' Union (UFW) reaffirmed its opposition to inclusion of farm workers under the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA) at its 1977 biennial convention in Fresno, Calif.

How is it that UFW, which publicly deplores the fact that farm workers are "discriminated against through the lack of legal protections afforded all other workers," can oppose the only major law which does not include agricultural labor?

The NLRA is the basic law that provides procedures for union recognition, regulates the conduct of secret ballot elections, defines union and employer unfair labor practices, and sets up rules for collective bargaining negotiations. It was originally passed in 1935 as part of a new deal plan to help unions organize and was refined by amendments in 1947 and 1959.

UFW leader Cesar Chavez refused to play the game unless he can write the rules. Testifying before a Senate subcommittee on labor he said, "We seek not recognition, but signed contracts" and "the bans on recognition and organizational picketing and on the so-called secondary boycott would be particularly harmful."

These bans are the essence of the law which was meant to replace organizational strikes with secret ballot elections. The ban on secondary boycotts provides protection for outsiders who are not a party to the labor dispute.

Without these provisions, farm worker elections would be a farce and a sham. How could there be freedom of choice in an election with the underlying threat that unless the union is voted in, employees will be harassed by pickets and the boycott will attempt to destroy their employers' businesses?

Those who support the UFW position do so in the belief that they are supporting farm workers. But aren't they really supporting the union in a position that forsakes the worker?

The agricultural industry has favored federal collective bargaining legislation for years. We have a pro-labor Congress. We have a pro-labor administration. Isn't it clear that the only reason farm workers are discriminated against by exclusion from federal labor laws is the opposition of Cesar Chavez?

Perhaps it is time to listen to Rev. R.B. Moore, black Baptist minister in Del Rio, Calif., where the UFW movement began. He said "Chavez doesn't work for the poor, he works on the..."

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

I always did say that if you're gonna steal, then steal with style and grace.

But it's a heckuva note, to paraphrase Bob Casterline, to have to go to the slammer to steal a totem. Casterline recently won a fictional national award for articles he did last year for Do You Know, the newspaper he edits at GCI.

I've been reading his stuff for months now and I'm one of Beer Can Benny's biggest fans. Beer Can Benny, or BCB as Bob calls him sometimes, is to GCI what Willie and Joe were to a lot of Glis in Europe in World War Two and it was a nice change indeed when the Crummy Cracker met BCB.

Not a lot of outsiders have ever heard of BCB though so I thought I'd take this opportunity to make the intro. Besides, it's an easy column. Take it away Bob.

"Ol' Beer Can Benny, my friend who claims he is the Son of the Unknown Soldier, is the news again."

"Seems he stirred things up by writing to an Italian newspaper urging them to put a clock in the Leaning Tower of Pisa. What's the use of having the inclination if you don't have the time," he asked.

"Anyway, Ol' Beer Can Benny is still wallowing in the aftermath of Christmas here at GCI. Best gift he received, he claims, was the box of corn plasters that came in the Salvation Army package. The Ol' Pop Top says he doesn't have any corns, so he experimented around for awhile and he found the small ones can be slapped off the ends of corn-on-the-cob to make little hot pads. And the big ones, says Benny, taste just as good as the chemical potpies in the dining hall. He likes to squat under his bunk and chew 'em and stare at the pictures of bare feet in the brochure that came in the corn plaster box."

"First corn plasters he's ever had, he says. Always was too embarrassed to walk up to the drug store clerk and just out-and-out ask for them. So he's really happy with 'em."

"BCB is on a public service kick, too. Ever since President Carter called on all Americans to conserve energy, Benny has been moving slow and doing nothing. He also says it's time to warn Americans that thumb-sucking can cause finger cancer. And he hopes the President will pick a new FBI director whose kitchen doesn't need remodeling."

"BCB's girl friend, Fat, Pimpily Wanda, took time out from her new business to come visit him last week. She has opened a Chinese-German Restaurant that's going over big. Only problem is that two hours after you eat, you're hungry for power."

"Now a lot of guys here kid about how ugly Wanda is, and Benny is the first to admit that the first time he brought her home, his dog threw up, but if you think she's homely, you ought to have seen her when she was a kid. The cat died from licking her baby picture."

Actually, Wanda's folks aren't all that happy about her going with Benny. Her mom says if their love can really stand the test of time, they ought not to see each other for 15 years or so.

"Of course, her mom's always looking ahead anyway...she's the kind of person who answers the phone when it's not ringing because she hates to leave everything until the last minute. And Wanda's dad, so paranoid, he insisted they have a life guard on duty for his baptism."

"Well, anyway, Benny's all upset with Debbie Boone. Says she stole the song he and Wanda wrote for the Armonia Convention...You Light Up My Life."

"But what I really wanted to tell you was about the night an officer was escorting Benny and a pal from the Chapel back to the dorm and a bird flew low and left a calling card on Benny's head."

"The officer was all apologetic, and told them to wait just a second and he would duck into the control room for some toilet paper."

"After he'd gone, Ol' Benny looked at his pal and said, 'Now ain't he some fool...by the time he gets back, the little bird will be a half-mile away.'"

"Till now we've always believed there were two kinds of people...those who make things happen and those who watch things happen. But Benny's a third kind, he doesn't know ANYTHING happened."

Help wanted...

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat must've been seeing too many reruns of Raid On Entebbe. What was meant to have been a recreation of the cavalry to the rescue turned out to be a Cypriot version of the Little Big Horn with tragi-comic overtones.

While we can sympathize with Sadat's intentions in ridding the world of a couple more terrorists it helps to know every body's reading out of the same script.

Maybe if he'd hire a couple of Israeli stuntmen...

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

I am a handicapped veteran living on a small pension. My vision and hearing are slowly leaving me. The doctors say they can do nothing, so I have made hobbies and projects to keep busy and fight off periods of depression and dependency, which seem to plague me most of the time.

While I am collecting antique valentines and old post cards, I am also collecting rare old calendars, advertising cards and old tinsy photos, in hopes of writing a book about the items I collect, and earn enough from it to get off this small VA pension and have medical care, which the VA is unable to afford me; so my hobbies have a dual purpose.

Living on limited funds, I depend greatly upon friends and others for much of the items I collect, and was wondering if any of your readers had any antique valentines, old post cards, rare old calendars or old tinsy photos they do not want, because I would be happy to have any they may care to send me and be glad to get them.

Thank you for your time and consideration in reading my letter.

Respectfully yours,

Jobmobile changes schedule

BELLE GLADE—The Jobmobile Service Center mobile unit operated by the Belle Glade office of the Florida State Employment Service has changed its schedule, according to an office source, to provide greater service to agricultural workers.

Patricia Meir, employer services representative, said the hours of operation at all four locations around Lake Okeechobee will be from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The unit will be located in Pahokee on North Main Street on Tuesdays; in Clewiston at the Harlem Academy in the morning and at the Sheriff's Department in the afternoon on Wednesdays; in South Bay on Palm Beach Road on Thursdays and in Moore Haven on US 27 on Fridays.

The Jobmobile visits communities on a regular weekly basis to provide complete placement services and it is in addition to the service provided from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday by a Rural Manpower representative at the Belle Glade labor loading area, and an employment counselor at the same location every Tuesday from 8 to 9 a.m.

KATHERINE PRICE FOUNDATION Secretary Charles Modecki (left) received Monday a gift of a $100 check from Belle Glade Civilians President J.W. Markham to be used for the local charity's ongoing work. The Foundation was incorporated in October 1976 and has received tax-exempt status from the IRS as a non-profit corporation. Its purpose is to continue the pioneer work of Mrs. I.L. Price, who has given her time and her home to helping those in need in the Glades for the past 30 years.

CD money comes here

More than half a million dollars in Palm Beach County Community Development funds have been allocated for use in the Glades this year, with projects being slated for Chosen, South Bay and the Fremd Village-Padgett Island area.

The Chosen project will cost

$400,000, in addition to a previously budgeted $118,650 and will be used for upgrading the water distribution system and installation of a sewage system. Another project, for the coming fiscal year, would include roadway paving and sidewalks.

The county has asked the City of Belle Glade to cooperate by extending water and sewer service to the area, with the cost to be paid by the Community Development (CD) funds. The city commissioners decided to first poll the residents of the area to see if they want the new services installed.

The county allocated $160,000 to round out a $645,000 program to complete upgrading of an existing water distribution system.

Another Glades program will be the improvement of 148,000 square feet of swales, including curbs and gutters, in the Fremd Village-Padgett Island area.

Auxiliary invites residents to meet

Christian Comments

SOUTH BAY—It is man's nature to find discouragement, so therefore we are not surprised to see one of the greatest Old Testament prophets, Jeremiah, serving God but being weighed by discouragement. As we study the life of Jeremiah, we understand that his discouragement was not unfounded, for as he preached repentance to his people he saw them continue to turn away from God.

Jeremiah has been called "the weeping prophet," simply because his heart broke as he looked upon the sins of Israel. God had called him to preach and to call Israel to repentance.

He did the best he could, night and day, pleading for Israel to give up her sin and return to God, but it seemed that all his efforts were in vain, for the people went on in their sin, forgetting God.

Every preacher has stood where Jeremiah stood. The pastor stands before his people Sunday after Sunday, year after year.

He pleads with them to leave their sins and give God the first place in their lives. He pleads with them to love each other and to be kind and gentle and Christ-like. He pleads with them to trust God and to be generous in their treatment of His church.

But many of them sit and listen unmoved, then they go out to live and sin and hate just as they have been doing.

Well, God wanted to teach Jeremiah a lesson so he sent him down to the potter's house. Jeremiah went in and watched the potter at his work. That artist took up a lump of clay in his hands, then placed it upon the wheel.

Then as he turned the wheel his skillful hands molded the vessel into shape. In a moment the vessel was finished and Jeremiah must have said, "What a beautiful vessel!" But the potter frowned and said, "No, there is a flaw in it."

So he crushed the vessel in his hands, put the clay back on the wheel and made a vessel that satisfied him.

How disappointing it must be for God to work and to shape and to mold men for a specific purpose then, as he examines his hands' work, he finds that the clay is not the quality that he would use and there becomes a flaw in the vessel that he would use. So God begins to reconstruct from the old clay a new vessel that would satisfy his needs.

By Bill Anderson
Pastor, First Baptist Church of South Bay

If we would make ourselves pliable in the hands of God and submit to his molding, to be used by Him, we would find our lives more fulfilling to ourselves, to our society, but most of all, to God.

Reid has worked very closely with Asbury College which trains many missionaries.

The Pahokee United Methodist Church gives support to Kimbula Kayika Theological School in Zaire, Africa. Dr. Reid will share first hand information about the school with the Pahokee congregation, filling the pulpit during both morning and evening services. The public is invited to share in these services.

The STRENGTH of a Nation...

At this time, our thoughts are turned to our nation and the war that was fought to bring freedom to our land. Pictured here is a monument to the leader of our people at that time. The people were willing to give their lives that we might be free from tyranny, and have the right to worship as we please. God was with us then as he was with the children of Israel when Moses led them from Egypt. Upon receiving their freedom they sang... "The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation: my father's God, and I will exalt him." Exodus 15:2

Help keep our Nation strong by relying on the strength of the Lord. Attend Church Regularly.

Pharmacy Topics

By Dale Bledsoe

Good News: since "child-proof" bottle caps were introduced a couple of years ago, accidental deaths of small children from aspirin poisoning have dropped 45 percent.

Medical scholars are showing new interest in the placebo, the "take pill" given in lieu of real medication. It works, say the doctors, because the patient expects it to. Main advantage: no bad side effects.

Electronics engineer in California has designed a tiny device that can summon aid in a medical emergency. It works with no more than gentle finger pressure, and has already saved the lives of elderly and heart-disease patients.

How much sleep do you need? Individual needs vary, say doctors, and most people need less sleep than they think they do.

Overaged medication in your medicine chest may be dangerous, say experts. Ideal procedure is to complete medication when it is prescribed and throw away any remainder. Discard crumbling tablets and any products that show a change in color or odor.

PAHOKEE-Junior and Senior High School youth groups held their first annual sweetheart banquet at the United Methodist Church of Pahokee Tuesday night.

Brownies report first activities of the year

PAHOKEE-Pahokee Brownie Troop 12, sponsored by the Pahokee Lion's Club, has started their new year off with many various activities. For the past several weeks the girls have been very busy making a variety of useful items and even some candy to eat. For the out-of-doors, they made red and white checked sit-upons to be prepared for any place they decide to have a cookout. Each girl will now have a comfortable place to sit.

For play, they each made puddle-jumpers. For those who have never run across a puddle-jumper, they are simply two tin cans large enough to place a small foot on, with strings attached to each side of the cans and held with each hand. You walk on them, supposedly through a puddle, and your feet stay dry because they are high atop the cans. Needless to say, the girls had a lot of fun with their jumpers and have become quite good at walking on them.

For Valentine gifts the girls made their parents a Valentine cardboard heart designed with beans on top, to be used as a plate on which to place hot dishes. Lastly, the girls made homemade peanut butter kisses (candy) at last week's meeting.

Brownies participating in the above activities were: Jayna Adams, Connie Arline, Tammy Culbertson, Kerry Kennedy, Lyndy Korbly, Lori Taylor, Dana Bullcock, Kelli Reinke, Karen Reinour, Shawn Mills, Claudia Padgett, Robin Livingston, Cyndy Jarriel, Krista Hundley and Mary Ann Laloney.

Brownie leaders helping with the above projects were Judy Fowler, Judy Griffith and Diane Kennedy.

Belle Glade Chamber Chatter

By Jewel Crane
Executive Secretary

BELLE GLADE—The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce is conducting a drive for new members and the renewal of inactive members this month and the invitation will extend through March 15. Remember...the Chamber speaks for you and our strength is determined by your support.

I wonder if you feel the pride that I feel driving through the City of Belle Glade since the construction of the four-lane highway from South Bay to Hooker Highway? Approaching the city from the south in the evening with the streets almost like day, I say to myself, "Belle Glade is growing into a beautiful town."

Have you met the group of citizens who have worked behind the scenes holding meetings, writing letters to the proper authorities to make this four-lane section of the highway become a reality? They are known as the Canal Hazards Safety Committee. This committee is made up of concerned citizens from Canal Point, Pahokee, Belle Glade, South Bay and Clewiston.

They refuse to be ignored by the Department of Transportation and the Legislative Delegation, and they plan to continue this drive until a four-lane highway is completed from Hooker Highway into West Palm Beach. The Chamber works closely with this committee by providing a secretary to attend and record the minutes of each meeting; also to send out notices for all meetings scheduled.

The Chamber also works very closely with another group of citizens that hold meetings bimonthly at 7:30 a.m. to discuss ways to encourage business locations and resident owners to clean up, fix up, paint up our city. This group is known as the Belle Glade Beautification Committee. This group needs your cooperation, participation and appreciation in their year-round beautification drive. Please remember...the people who make up these committees are not salaried; they are just concerned citizens in our community.

If you are unable to attend the meetings held by the aforementioned groups, do the best thing—support the Chamber and help make these things happen.

Throughout the membership drive the Chamber Chatter will cover the activities of the Chamber.

Local girl makes good at UF

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD
By Arlene Brooker

GAINESVILLE—The jump from a small high school in Belle Glade to a college campus teeming with 30,000 students can be difficult. However, Teresita Gomez made the move with flying colors.

At the end of last quarter at the University of Florida (UF) Teresita had A's in all of her classes, an achievement which placed her on both the Dean's and President's List.

But, outstanding grades are only one of Teresita's accomplishments since entering UF in 1975.

"I was very active at Gaines Day School in my high school years," Miss Gomez said, "and I was totally lost at UF until I found a home in my sorority."

Miss Gomez is a member of Alpha Epsilon Psi sorority (AEP). She said it is important that people realize sororities do much more than provide a social function for members.

Miss Gomez, who is involved actively in student government, community activities, and volunteer organizations as well. When one looks at Teresita's activities through AEO, this comes across loud and clear.

On January 14 and 15 Miss Gomez was chairman of the Southeastern Convention of AEO sorority. It was held at UF and attended by chapters from three other Florida universities.

This month, February, she plans to run for vice-president of Panhellenic, the governing body of all sororities at UF. Teresita is already quite active in Panhellenic.

She is the head Rush Advisor (an agency for recruiting and welcoming new sorority members), and chairman of the Panhellenic Dance Marathon. It's not hard to appreciate why she was awarded the Panhellenic Certificate of Achievement.

Also, as a result of her numerous achievements, Miss Gomez was named a member of the Order of Omega Leadership. This honor is based on grades, leadership and overall excellence of student.

Teresita's activities are not limited to sorority programs, however. She was appointed by the Gainesville board of the Child Advocacy Committee to the position on its public relations staff. The committee handles child abuse and related problems in the Gainesville area.

An attractive, stylish young woman herself, Teresita has recently been appointed assistant director of the Miss University of Florida contest.

Last quarter, the busy junior completed an internship with UF's Career Resource Center, the job placement headquarters.

Looking toward the future, Miss Gomez plans to graduate from UF in 1979 with a major in public relations and a minor in Spanish.

Then, she plans to earn a master's degree in business.

After college, Miss Gomez hopes to find a position with an international company.

Miss Gomez is the daughter of Ramon and Teresita Gomez, 865 S.E. 1st Street, Belle Glade.

Belle Glade girl appears in "Tartuffe"

Karen Lynn Carpenter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carpenter of Belle Glade, will be appearing in the Florida School of the Arts production of "Tartuffe," as Madame Pernelle at St. John's River Jr. College in Palatka March 24 and 3-11.

Miss Carpenter entered the Florida Arts Charter class in 1976 where she took the role of "Stella" in "A Streetcar Named Desire." Karen also appeared in "Godspell" and in Chekhov's "The Sea Gull" as "Madame Arcadina," the lead female role.

Last January Karen attended the University Resident Theatre Audition, her first professional audition, in New York City. Miss Carpenter will be graduating in June of 1978 with an Associate in Science degree in theatre and plans to seek a bachelor of fine arts degree at a larger institution in the fall.

The curtain will go up at 8:18 p.m. Admission is $2 per person.

AIRMAN PARKER

BELLE GLADE—Billy J. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolan D. Parker of Belle Glade, graduated from Recruit Training Command in Orlando, where he finished eight weeks of naval training.

Parker is now taking Aviation Structural Mechanic training at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Millington, Tenn. There he will be taking courses in the mechanical structure of the aircraft, such as working on the landing gear, the escape routes and emergency systems.

Parker joined the Navy in June.

IN THE CLASS A DISTRICT 11 tournament, Doris Acree (No. 20) of Christian Day School tosses the ball to teammate Linda Harris (No. 14) as Joni Davis (No. 25) looks on.

Crusader cage wrapup

Christian Day JV beats Jupiter

On February 13, the Crusader Junior Varsity team met Jupiter Christian. The CDS Junior Varsity team came out on top with a close score of 43 to 40. Bill Evans was the high scorer with 15 points. He was followed by Alex Hermida with 11, and 8th grader Bill Hancock with 6.

In varsity action, Jupiter Christian topped the Crusaders in another close game. The final score was 64-59. Ken Warren lead the Christian Day team with 20 points. Alan Bowen came in with 14 and Tim Atkins followed with 12.

The Junior Varsity team met Lake Worth Christian on February 14. Lake Worth Christian topped the Jayvees by a score of 39 to 33. Carlos Soler lead the Crusader scoring with 9 points, and Kent Davis came in second with 8. In that game, 3 of the 5 starters fouled out, this contributing to the loss.

On February 17, the Varsity met Moore Haven. Moore Haven won by a big score of 61 to 37. Alan Bowen and Bill Taylor led the Crusader scoring with 8 points a piece. Coach Jeff Coldren said the Varsity stayed with Moore Haven the first half. The score at the end of the first half was Moore Haven, 40, and Christian Day, 27. He said the boys played real good ball the first half, but they wouldn't work the ball inside in the 2nd half. This made the difference.

The girls team met Moore Haven in the Class A District 11 tournament on February 17. They were defeated by a score of 22 to 19. It was a low scoring game, shown by a score of only 7 to 6 at the half. Both teams were very nervous because it was a district game, and both teams played a very aggressive defensive first half. Joni Davis was the high Crusader scorer with 8 points, and Linda Harris followed with 5. One factor contributing to the loss was Rhonda Hart, the leading rebounder, was not 100% due to illness. Coach Coldren said the girls team should be tough for the next two years since they are only losing one senior, Doris Acree, this year. The girls final record was 11 wins and 8 losses.

On February 18, the Junior Varsity met Canterbury here. Christian Day School Jayvees won by a score of 49 to 23.

Carlos Soler lead the scoring with 16 points, and Tony Duboy came in with 8. Coldren said they played good team ball that night, and if they had played like that all season, their record would have been much better. The Junior Varsity's final record was 6 wins and 13 losses.

In the last home game of the regular season, the Varsity team topped Canterbury by a score of 53 to 40. Bill Taylor lead the scoring with 14 points. Jesus Armas and Ken Warren, both guards, came in with 12 points, and Alan Bowen scored 6. Alan Bowen was injured early in the game. He twisted his ankle pretty badly. Three team members fouled out. Coach Coldren said they shot the best they've ever shot from the foul line. They were 15 to 22 there, while Canterbury got only 6 for 26. Coldren maintains that is what kept them in the game. He also said that their two big men, Steve Smith and Bill Taylor, have been hurting them in the last few games. He said if they can learn to stay on their feet and out of foul trouble, the varsity team could have a chance in the district tournament.

The Varsity team now has a record of 9 wins and 12 losses. They will be in action tonight (Thursday) in Moore Haven at 8:30 p.m. They will be playing against Moore Haven in the Class A District 11 tournament.

Affiliated is their primary supplier, although they do have others who furnish products not available through Affiliated.

Ward is especially proud of their meat department. They only handle heavy western Iowa beef. They have pre-cut and special cut meats. Any customer can call in and order meats and the order will be ready when needed.

Ward says they also have a complete line of frozen foods and fresh produce.

Food Center employs 12 persons besides Ward. Don Crowe is their butcher, and helping him in the meat department are Buddy Rewies, Zora Gargirious, Todd Ward (Charles' son), and Kenneth Fletcher.

Want to cut down on your electric bill? Check your plumbing.

That's right. Your plumbing. And you can start with your hot water heater. Next to air-conditioning, it's often the second biggest user of electricity in the home.

But its cost can be substantially reduced. By simply adjusting the setting on your water heater thermostat. To between 120 and 130 degrees. Or, if you have a large family or dishwasher, place the setting at 140. Any higher and you're probably wasting money.

If you insulate your water heater with a blanket of fiberglass, you could save even more. Up to 75¢ a month. It may not sound like much, but every little bit helps. And if you're going on a trip, turn your water heater off until you return. It'll save money. Even if you're away for only three or four days.

(One word of caution, however: before you do anything to your hot water heater, be sure to disconnect the circuit breaker. If necessary, we even suggest you call a serviceman.)

Another possible drain on your electric bill are leaks in your hot water system. A leaky hot water faucet, for example, can cost you upwards of two dollars a month. So, if you see a drippy faucet, replace the washers. The savings could be quite significant.

Some other helpful hints? Take showers instead of baths. A bath uses twice as much water as a shower. And when you shave, or rinse the dishes, don't let the hot water run. You could be pouring a lot of water down the drain. What's more, if you have to replace your shower heads, install flow restrictors to reduce the rate of water flow.

Finally, you can recover wasted heat by utilizing the hot refrigerant gas from the air-conditioner compressor to heat the water. This new technique could eliminate water heating altogether in the summer. But be sure to consult a licensed air-conditioning contractor.

If you'd like some more money saving ideas, ask for our folder "How to Save Money on Your Electric Bill." It's free. At all FPL offices.

Raiders lose to Key West in last game of season

KEY WEST-The Glades Central Raiders bowed to Key West Saturday night to end a 17-7 season, the best basketball record by the school team since it became Glades Central in 1970.

In the meantime, the Raiders locked up second place in the Suncoast Conference West but slipped from the top ten state rankings Tuesday, following the 75-68 loss to the Conchs, and will play Saturday night for the District 14AAA title in the Glades Central gym.

The district playoff will begin Friday evening when Atlantic and Cardinal Newman butt heads to see which will face the Raiders Saturday night. The district champion will face the District 13 champion Tuesday night for the regional title. That, according to Coach Jay Seider, could very well be a third matchup between the Raiders and North Shore and it could be in the Raider gym.

Seider said the Raiders had a lot of turnovers in their game against the Conchs, "and we didn't shoot as well as we should have. I don't know if the long trip had anything to do with it or not."

Seider said three to four minutes had passed in the first period before Glades Central picked up its first field goal, "and from there, we had to keep struggling all the time. Every time we came close, we made mistakes; turnovers or fouls."

"We came within two points three times in the second half," he said, "and every time, they ended up behind us to score or they'd force a turnover."

Seider noted that the Raiders were the third team to be defeated by Key West in the Key West gym.

Once again, Jessie Haynes led the scoring for the Raiders, sinking 29 points while making five rebounds and one assist. Michael Staples was the only other player shooting in double digits, making 14 points, two rebounds and five assists.

The scoring was rounded out by David Jones with nine points and seven rebounds, Arthur Slater with six points and 12 rebounds, Melvin Weston with four points and seven rebounds, Melvin Weston with four points and four rebounds and two assists and Joe Byrd with two points and three assists.

Lake plan discussed in Clewiston

Dr. Herbert W. Kale, vice president of the Florida Audubon Society, was the only objector to speak out against the raising of the Lake Okeechobee water table from 15.5 feet to 17.5 feet at the public hearing Wednesday night at the Clewiston Youth Center.

Dr. Kale urged that the project not be implemented until further study and research had been completed and that the Corps of Engineers and other government agencies guarantee that the natural habitat of the endangered Everglades Kite be replaced elsewhere. Dr. Kale's major concern was the Everglades Kite and he said that nothing be done until his organization had approved the long-range plans.

Attorney Madison F. Pacetti, representing the South Water Conservancy District and the District Island Water Management District, noted that the residents of the lake area were very dependent on water for physical and economic survival. "We are not only interested in water conservation but we are also interested in proposed increased water storage project," Pacetti said.

James E. Ball, Jr., asked that an agreement existing between the Corps of Engineers and the Florida Flood Control District be made a part of the official record of the hearing. Mr. Ball said that the agreement required the FCD to protect his property from water and that the Corps of Engineers would be responsible for the 15.5 ft. mark. The agreement was mutually arrived at during a condemnation hearing for the taking of a portion of his land in 1964.

Mr. Ball expressed concern of a possible seepage problem in the area when the lake level is raised.

Peter B. Rhodes, director of resources planning for the South Florida Water Management District, asked to speak in reply to several incorrect statements that were made by a representative of the Society the night before in Miami.

Mr. Rhodes stated that, contrary to the statements made, his organization had made extensive studies in recent years with regard to marsh preservation in the lake and that the statements made at the present hearing were all false. He said the present marshes would be flooded is false. The proposed plan will not place the lake's remaining marsh in stress, he said.

Robert B. Simonson of Pahokee also expressed concern about seepage from the higher lake level. Growers are interested in whether or not the government plans to widen and deepen the canals on the pumping of the dike and they are concerned about the possible increase in seepage on the adjoining agricultural land, he said. Drainage facilities are presently taxed with the volume of water and the seepage taxes are about as high as the industry can stand, Simonson continued.

After being assured by Col. Robert J. Waterston, III that the Corps was aware of the possible seepage problem and that they would monitor the situation very closely, Simonson added that the area was also greatly concerned with the possibility that the pumping of water into the lake might be stopped.

"Some folks aren't aware that the lake area contributes a great deal of water to the lake. Without the pumping water into the lake during the wet periods of the year, you could walk across the lake without getting your feet wet during the dry season," Simonson said.

Col. Waterston asked Jack Maloy, executive director of the South Florida Water Management District, to address that matter. Maloy gave a brief history of the water management district and its efforts to control water since 1950. He said that a citizen had signed a complaint on a little used and often forgotten law which was registered with the Department of Environmental Regulations. The SEWRMD has applied for a pumping permit based on its history of operation; however, DER has refused to issue the permit on the grounds that pumping water from agricultural land into the lake is harmful and degrades the quality of lake water.

We have asked for a formal hearing on the matter. There appears to be no danger or threat to shutting down the pumps; however, we do expect a full-blown hearing. Of the information available today, the results of pumping water into the lake does not indicate harm to the water quality.

Maloy stated that in our country today, criminals were innocent until proven guilty...however, in dealing with the Department of Environmental Regulations, you are guilty until proven innocent. He expressed a personal opinion that the district would be allowed to continue its present manner of operation until such time as actual damage to the lake water could be established.

Prior to taking statements relating to the proposed raising of the lake level from 15.5 to 17.5 feet, Col. Waterston gave a brief history of the lake and the increasing of its capacity over the years, and stressed that the meeting was for public information and to allow the public to provide input to the proposed project.

The Corps of Engineers has an obligation to seek the public views and to accommodate them insofar as possible," he said.

Legislation relating to Lake Okeechobee dates back to 1926-28 when the hurricanes killed so many in the area. The Herbert Hoover Dike was authorized in 1930 and completed in 1937. In 1947-48, there were devastating floods in Central and South Florida which led to the creation of Central and Southern Florida Flood Control project.

Original flood level planning in 1949 called for the initial 15.5 foot plan with long-range planning for 17.5 ft. The additional water storage is needed to provide the future demands for water users of Central and Southern Florida as well as the Everglades National Park.

Modifications recently completed may lead to even a greater storage capacity in the years ahead, Col. Waterston said.

Regulatory outlets of the lake used for water level control include agricultural canals, Caloosahatchee River and St. Lucie Canal in the order of priority uses. The agricultural canals are West Palm Beach, Hillsboro, North New River and Miami Canals leading from the southern rim of Lake Okeechobee to the northerly limits of the three large water conservation areas of the Everglades region. Their primary function is to provide major drainage for the vast, rich agricultural lands which lie between the lake and the water conservation areas. They provide a secondary function of lake regulation, delivering up to 4,300 cubic feet per second to the St. Lucie Canal.

The Caloosahatchee River is one of the major regulatory outlets for Lake Okeechobee. The lake outlet is Structure 77, a spillway located at Moore Haven on the west side of the lake. Like the agricultural canals, the first obligation of the Caloosahatchee is to remove floodwaters from the local drainage area. After the peak discharge has occurred, the Caloosahatchee can provide up to 9,300 c.f.s., secondary capacity for lake seepage and discharge over two days for this outlet to lower the lake level by one inch. Keep in mind that these are rough approximations.

The St. Lucie Canal is the second of the major regulatory outlets. It is the only primary regulatory outlet from Lake Okeechobee. What I mean by that is the canal banks are high; the canal at full flow assumes a steep slope; and local floods do not back up on adjacent lands. This presents a problem for local interests in the Stuart area in that, local inflow increases the St. Lucie Canal flow above and beyond what could possibly flow from the lake if there were no local inflow. We have developed a "slow motion" gate opening procedure that will ameliorate that problem - more about that later. Without local inflow the St. Lucie Canal is capable of passing about 6,500 c.f.s. at lake elevation 16.5, the lowest lake elevation at which we consider maximum flood releases advisable, Col. Waterston said. The St. Lucie flow would vary with lake elevation up to 14,500 c.f.s. maximum at Structure 308C at Port Mayaca on the eastern shore of Lake Okeechobee. This could occur only with what is called the Standard Project Flood or larger. Since records began being kept on Lake Okeechobee back in 1912 there has never been a Standard Project Flood nor anything approaching a Standard Project Flood; however, these floods and larger floods are possible. At elevation 16.5 it would take about 2 1/2 days to lower the lake one inch. At the Standard Project Flood elevation, about 25 feet, the canal could help lower the lake at a rate of about 1/2-inch per day.

At the very maximum rate of release the huge lake can be lowered about 1 1/2 inches per day. Over the years, the lake level has been increased and each time the move has proven beneficial because of the demand for additional water. The regulation range was 13.5 in 1966; 14.0 in 1970; 14.5 in 1974. The increase in 1974 probably prevented serious water rationing during the last three years, he said.

The Corps and the South Florida Water Management District are deeply concerned for the safety of the people and property in the Lake Okeechobee area and the lake level and time of year will be closely monitored for maximum safety. An elaborate system of zoning, lake levels and periods of the year have been worked out along this line, Waterston said. The record will remain open until March 1978 for those who desire to make written statements to be included in the transcript of the Clewiston public meeting. Written statements should be submitted to the District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, P.O. Box 4970, Jacksonville, FL 32201. Col. Waterston also noted that the Corps had a "hotline," 1-800/342-5860, which could be used to seek information relating to Corps projects.

Staff members present at the meeting included James Garland, chief engineering division; Eddie Salem, chief project planning branch; Dr. Lloyd Saunders, chief environmental and resources branch; Carol White, chief water management section; Mickie Eichler, public affairs officer; Burt Buttrick, area engineer, Miami Beach; and Bud Pritchett, area engineer, Clewiston.

JACK MALOY, Executive Director of the South Florida Water Management District, tells those attending the public hearing Wednesday evening in Clewiston that "criminals are innocent until proven guilty; however, individuals involved with the Department of Environmental Regulations are guilty until proven innocent."

South Bay meets next in new hall

SOUTH BAY-A sick city commissioner couldn't get away from their jobs Tuesday night the City Commission will hold its last February meeting in the new South Bay City Hall rather than wait until March.

Tuesday was to have been the last regular city commission meeting in the existing commission chambers but, unable to get a quorum, Mayor Billy Wells called a special meeting to take care of current city business in the new quarters at 335 S.W. Second Ave. The decision was made after City Clerk Virginia Walker told Wells and Commissioner Woodrow "Woody" O'Neal that Commissioner Vernita Cox had called her earlier in the day to inform her she was sick and telephone checks with Commissioners Donald Tanner and Ray Sullivan revealed they were both working and couldn't get away.

On the agenda for the upcoming special meeting will be the winning of bids for a backhoe City Utilities Director Lomax Harrell has rummy introduced as a cash crop, but the end of World War II and the discovery of synthetic fibers caused that dream to die.

Tommy Fornhe, also a Rotarian, worked closely with Dr. Allison in soil experimentation and another Rotarian, and still a Rotarian, Ralph Kidder, was largely responsible for the area's fine cattle herds.

Dulany said he was born in a foreign country, Oklahoma, before it became a state. He said cattle there were fat and sleek after being pastured. But when he moved to South Florida, he found tall grass and skinny cows.

Kidder and the experiment station staff worked on the problem, discovered the deficiencies and the result is the vital cattle industry today.

Dulany ended his talk with the Rudyard Kipling poem "If," which he said symbolized the pioneer spirit that led to what we now see in the Glades.

Patriotic talk scheduled

BELLE GLADE-Vern Burkhardt, a patriotic speaker who has presented talks to more than 250 civic and business groups across the United States in the past three years, will be featured at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in a special Rotary luncheon which will be open to the public.

"I think this is going to be one talk important enough for everyone to hear," Rotarian E.J. McCroan said, "and he public is invited to hear the talk."

McCroan said Burkhardt, who is a past district governor of Rotary in Ohio with 47 years of perfect attendance, retired to Lake Placid in 1973 and has devoted his time since then to traveling and presenting patriotic talks across the country.

"His talks are straight-forward, hard hitting and non-political," McCroan said. "Mr. Burkhardt believes that we must wake up, speak up and get involved if America is to survive as a great and free nation."

McCroan said the talk will follow the regular Rotary luncheon meeting which begins at noon in the Municipal Civic Center.

been trying to get for three years, bid opening for police radios and discussions on new rates for out-of-town freighting service.

One item the commissioners took care of during a special meeting last Wednesday was the termination of former Police Chief Willie Wisper, Jr. Wisper had been suspended for 60 days and the suspension time had run out two weeks ago, when the special meeting was called.

Between the time the meeting was called and the time it was held, Wisper was convicted on two counts of possession of marijuana with intent to sell and acquitted on six other charges dealing with prostitution in a trial on the court. Mrs. Walker said a police officer attempted to deliver the termination papers to Wisper Friday evening but Wisper refused to accept them, saying he would accept them only from a city commissioner. She said that had no legal bearing on the termination, however.

Wedgworth tells solons about agricultural needs in Glades

BELLE GLADE-Water management headed the subject of a series of subjects George Wedgworth discussed with legislators Friday during a hearing held in the Belle Glade City Hall by the Palm Beach County Legislative Delegation.

Speaking on behalf of Florida Sugar Cane League, Wedgworth said the Glades has "one of the truly outstanding water management projects in the world," but, "from a water management point of view, we are using every tactic possible to prevent water management decisions to be made on a sound scientific basis."

Wedgworth said the state Department of Environmental Regulation had given an application for a permit by the South Florida Water Management District to backpump into Lake Okeechobee because of emotion, rather than on factual considerations.

"Research results which will be published in the next few weeks will show the following items," he said.

"There are more nutrients entering Lake Okeechobee from rainfall on the lake than there is from the combined discharges of all backpumping."

"There is nothing contained in the backpumped water that endangers the drinking water supply of any municipality or persons. Pesticides were at levels far below the U.S. Government drinking water standards or non-detectable."

"Lake Okeechobee as a whole was not adversely affected by backpumping. Low oxygen and some elevation of nutrients was restricted to an area near the rim canal of the lake."

Wedgworth said that while administrative and, possibly, legal remedies are being used now to prevent DER and other from stopping backpumping, legislative aid may be sought at a later date.

"We need your help and advice," he said, "in preventing an emotional takeover of sound water management. Everyone should remember that water in the Glades is harmless nutrient is better than no-water at all."

In other areas, Wedgworth alerted the legislators to the possibility DER may "bill" which would take the Glades Agriculture Area and use it for conservation and preservation in the Florida Coastal Zone program. Asked for the continued support of the legislators to keep the Agricultural exemption under the Palm Beach County Environmental Control Act.

Said he supports a federal Agriculture Labor Relations Act, "provided the farmer is protected by cooling-off periods to prevent strikes during harvest of perishable crops and other protections for labor and employer."

Wedgworth's statements were supported and elaborated on by other members of the audience, including former County Commissioner E.W. "Bud" Weaver, now speaking for the Everglades Farm Bureau, when he said statistics have shown there could be a real problem feeding the world by 2027 unless there is some action taken to protect agricultural land from being converted to other uses.

Also speaking for the Farm Bureau was Robert Simonson of Pahokee, who said he didn't think agriculture should be penalized because, "Someone else has failed to make adequate plans to provide for water."

"We have enough trouble with nature," Simonson said. "When you have to fight the federal and state governments as well, that's when you commence growing ulcers instead of crops."

SERVICES TO PERSONS UNABLE TO PAY EVERGLADES MEMORIAL HOSPITAL PAHOKEE, FLORIDA

The Bureau of Community Medical Facilities, Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, State of Florida, has established the sum of $50,000 as the level of uncompensated services to be made available by Everglades Memorial Hospital in the period of Oct. 1, 1977 to Sept. 30, 1978. This determination has been made pursuant to the requirements of the regulations of the Public Health Service, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (42 CFR 53.111) and the applicable provisions of Florida Medical Facilities Construction Plan.

"Uncompensated services" means services available in the facility which are made available to persons unable to pay therefore, without charge or at a charge which is less than the reasonable cost of such service. The level of such services is measured by the differences between the amount paid by such persons for the services and the reasonable cost thereof.

The level set out above meets the presumptive compliance guidelines of the federal regulations and is 10 percent of all federal assistance provided the facility under the Hospital and Medical Facilities Construction Act.

Everglades Memorial Hospital has the right to determine how, when and to whom hospital services will be provided.

There are no guidelines which positively identify a person or family as eligible to receive full or partial uncompensated services. Each case must be evaluated on its own merit.

Raiders hold off Pahokee 78-72

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee Blue Devils outscored the Glades Central Raiders in three quarters Friday night but was unable to overcome a whopping 22-point scoring binge in the second quarter as the Raiders chalked up their 17th victory for the season.

The 12-point margin Coach Jay Seider's charges were able to build in that second quarter proved to be the edge in what he referred to as a "hotly contested game."

"It got a little close out there at the end," Seider said. They ended up getting within two points with a couple of minutes left to play.

"We moved the ball around pretty good and shot well (60 per cent)," Seider said of the second quarter, when the Raiders outscored the Devils, 22-10. He said quite a few of the points were picked up inside while the Devils were shooting a cold 29 per cent in that period.

And that was enough to counterbalance the 21-19 edge the Pahokee team enjoyed in the first quarter, the 14-11 edge in the third quarter and the 27-26 margin in the fourth period.

Seider said the Blue Devils shot well from the outside in the final quarter, although they made few points from inside all night.

"We let them make a couple that we should have," he said.

The leading scorer for the game was Jessie Haynes, who picked up 24 points, eight rebounds and two assists but he was assisted by three other Raiders who scored in double digits.

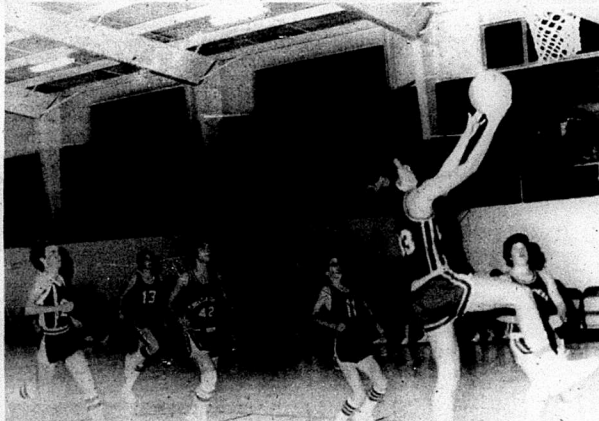

The leading scorer for Pahokee was Stafford Everett, making 19 of the Devils' points. There were also four players on the Pahokee team who scored in double figures.

For Glades Central, Melvin Weston made 14 points and five rebounds while Arthur Slater made 12 points and 20 rebounds and Rufus Chambers made 12 points, ten rebounds and two assists.

Rounding out the scoring for the Raiders were David Jones with six points and two rebounds, Joe Byrd with six points and two assists, Todd Darville with two points and two rebounds, Michael Staples with two points and four assists, Edgar Arnett with two rebounds and Ollie Sheppard with one assist.

On the Pahokee scoring block were Joe Brown with 18 points, Ronald Osborne with 12 and Osmond Edwards with ten. Charles Biggs and Mike Pickens each scored six points and Ned Baldwin made one.

Glades Day Gators close out cage season with 15-7 record

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Day Gators wrapped up a successful basketball season this week, posting a 15-7 varsity record.

But Coach Dick Schmidt said it should have been better. "Four of those games were lost by a total of eight points," he noted.

In the final two weeks of the season, two of the games he was talking about happened when Moore Haven defeated the Gators by one point and Everglades pulled out a two-point, double overtime victory.

On Feb. 6, the Gators handed Summit Christian a resounding 75-43 defeat with Tom Duda tagging 18 points and 29 rebounds as the leading player. He was followed by Jon Scruggs with 16, Don Henderson with 14, and Quique Echave with 13.

Against Moore Haven later in the week, things didn't go as well and the Terriers won 45-44. Henderson was the leading Gator scorer with 14, Scruggs had 14, and Duda got ten. In the Junior Varsity league, Moore Haven won 65-45 and the B team of the Gators whipped the Terriers 39-37 in an overtime. The A team lost 53-25.

Everglades City has given the Gators trouble both times they have met and the most recent wasn't any different. In a double overtime, they won 60-58 but on the Gators side, Scruggs had 20 points to his credit and Henderson 18.

Glades Day's junior varsity helped even the score somewhat by defeating Everglades' JV 71-60. The Gators got back on the winning track by whipping Benjamine 65-55 with Echave getting 23 points, helped by Scruggs' 18 and Winston Byrd's ten. The Gator's JV won 54-26.

Lake Worth Christian also felt the Gator wrath and went down 99-61. Team point leaders were Henderson with 17, Scruggs 16, Byrd 15 and Duda 12. The junior high played three games, winning 45 to 14 in the first against Christian, then meeting Clewiston with both the A and B teams. In the B game, the Tigers won 82-26 and in the A game, they won 81-42.

Glades Day continued to win by beating Kings' Academy 56-50. Henderson tallied 12 points, Scruggs had 13, Echave got 11, and Byrd rounded it off with ten. In junior varsity action, Kings won 58-51 and in junior high, won 45-30. The last regular game of the season was against John Carroll, the old Gator rival, and it ended with Carroll winning 49-45. Echave was team leader with 14 points. The Junior Varsity team also lost 54-42.

Tonight (Thursday) the Gators go into the district finals in Moore Haven.

For most families a home has been the best of all possible investments. Stocks, bonds, savings accounts all fell badly behind the rate of inflation in the past 10 years. Homes, on the average, greatly exceeded the rate of inflation. Shouldn't you be investing your money in a proven inflation beater as well as something the whole family can enjoy. Yes, we handle conventional as well as FHA-VA financing. All applications and closings handled locally at your convenience. Veterans, need that eligibility certificate? We have applications available. Call us!!!
